HISTORY IN BRIEF

"I started working with coffee seedlings and fell in love with the crop. Seeing that all the care that went into the seedling, all the work in the nursery, planting, and post-harvest was worth it is a great accomplishment"

Fernanda Furtado

Fernanda used to work in education and decided to abandon her career to follow her passion for coffee crops together with her husband. Now Fernanda takes care of all post-harvest procedures on the farm. Besides being a mother working in housekeeping and pursuing her passion for coffee, she also set up a seedling nursery and produces coffee seedlings for themselves and growers in the Campo da Vertentes region.

During the harvest season, she works even harder in the post-harvest processes. Always looking for innovation and not being afraid of challenges, Fernanda is committed to produce coffees with higher quality each season, focusing on details to increase their specialty coffee production with sustainability.
